SPA POOLS

Skimmer Spas: The Pinnacle of Customisable Relaxation

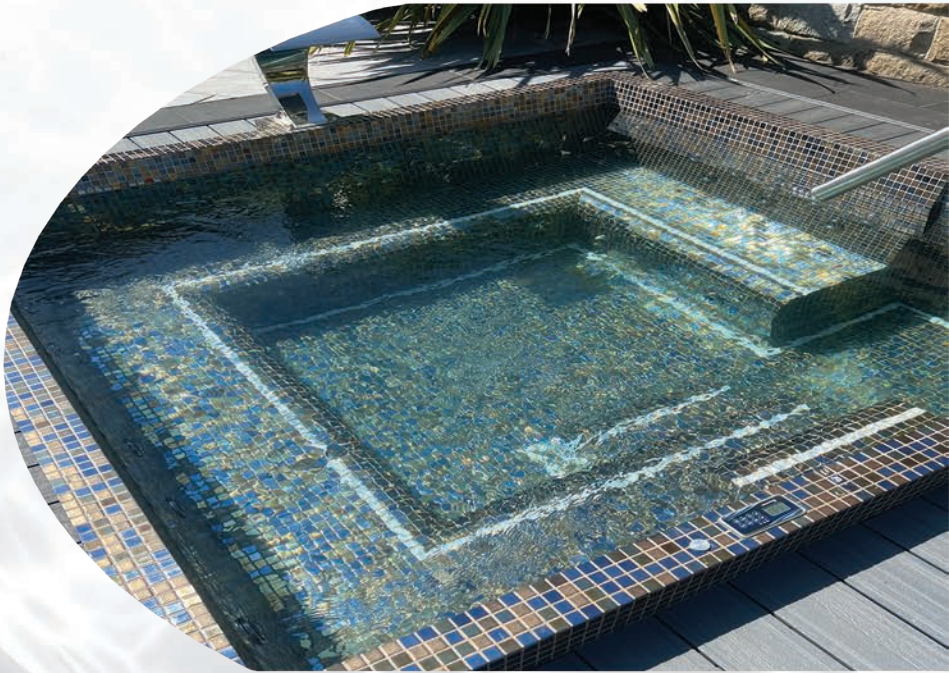

Skimmer spas, also known as Freeboard spas, are named for the innovative skimmer system that efficiently functions as both a drain and a water filter.

Precision in Design

Typically, the water level in a skimmer spa is set 100mm to 150mm below the spa's highest edge, though this can vary based on specific design requirements. This precise water level management ensures optimal functionality and aesthetic appeal.

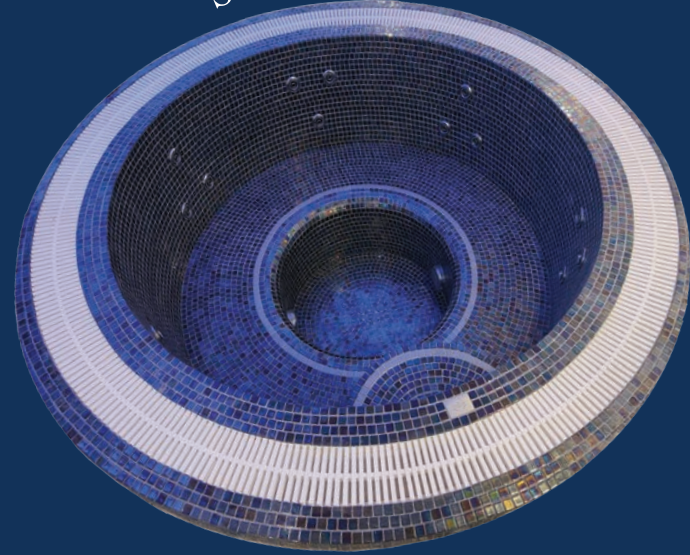

Tailored Luxury

Our mosaic-tiled skimmer spas are meticulously crafted to meet each client's exact specifications. This customisation allows us to integrate loungers or seating that perfectly match the curvature and height preferences of the spa users, delivering unparalleled comfort and relaxation.

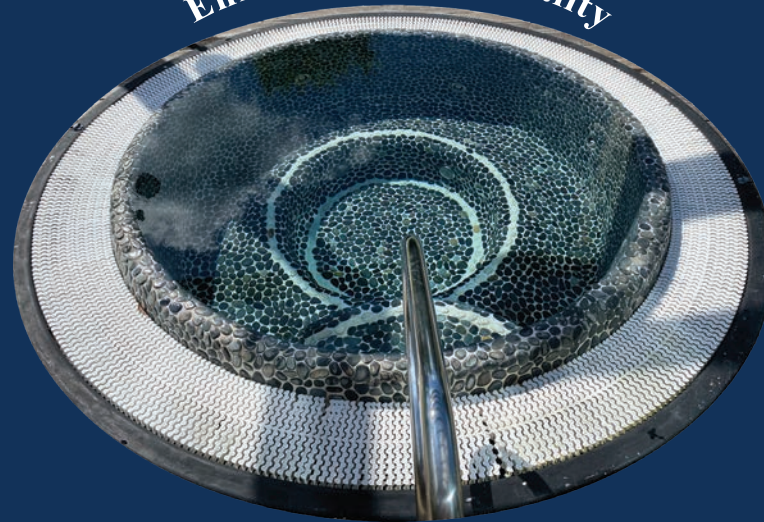

DECK LEVEL SPA

Seamless Design

Enhanced Functionality

High Water Turnover & Hygiene

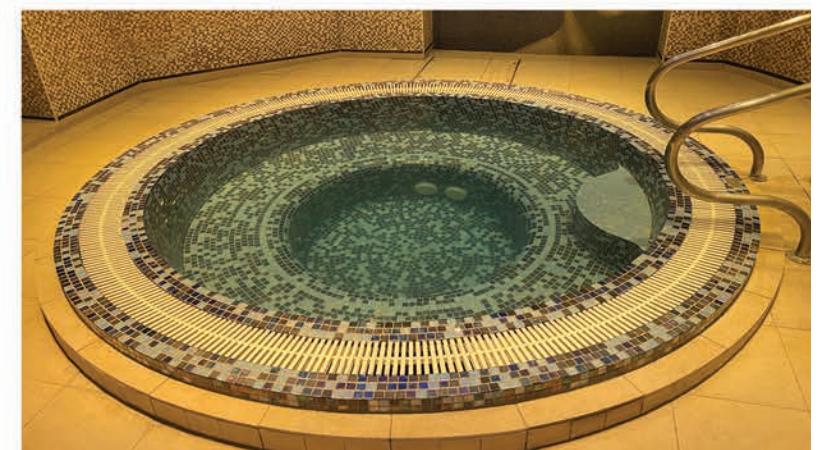

A deck level spa, also known as an overflow spa, features a sophisticated design where the water level is flush with the highest edge of the spa, creating a seamless and elegant aesthetic.

Unlike skimmer spas, deck level spas have an overflow channel that maintains a consistent water level regardless of bather activity. This feature enhances the spa's visual appeal and functionality.

Deck level spas have a high water turnover rate, with water continuously filtered and recycled. This keeps the water clean and stable, even with multiple bathers, making them popular in the commercial leisure industry.

SPAS CAN BE ANY SHAPE OR DESIGN

INSTALLING YOUR POOL

At One Pool and Spa, our straightforward installation process sets us apart. Allow us to guide you through how effortlessly you can create your private paradise.

EXCAVATION:

The initial step involves precise measurement and excavation of the pool area. An engineered concrete slab is then installed as the foundation, facilitating your pool’s craning, positioning, and setting.

CRANING, POSITIONING AND SETTING

With the foundation in place, we crane your pool or spa into position. Once set, the space between the excavated area and the pool walls is carefully backfilled.

JOINING POOL SECTIONS

For pools or spas that require multiple sections due to site access or size, the sections are mechanically bolted together with high-strength adhesive. The seams are then seamlessly fiberglassed and welded, preparing the structure for the final tile installation.

HYDRO ONE

Elevating Aquatic Excellence

Hydro One combines elegance, style, and cutting-edge ultra-flow technology to surpass traditional endless-style pools and spas.

Hydro One's advanced counter current units create a seamless counterflow, allowing stationary swimming for endurance training or vigorous workouts with three speed levels. Switch easily from an intense swim to a gentle, relaxing session, making Hydro One perfect for swimmers of all levels.

POOLS WITH INTEGRATED SPAS

Our pools and spas are bespoke, crafted to fit any configuration and fulfil your unique vision. One of our standout offerings is a pool with an integrated spa, combining the best of both worlds in one elegant design. This seamless integration adds a touch of sophistication and offers an unparalleled experience of relaxation and comfort.

This dual functionality ensures you enjoy a complete aquatic experience, whether swimming laps or soaking away stress. At One Pool and Spa, we believe in creating spaces that cater to your every need, elevating your home or commercial environment into a sanctuary of leisure and luxury.

PLUNGE POOL

Plunge pools differ from most other spas and pools as the water temperature is cooler, which offers bathers an invigorating experience.

Plunge pools, a hallmark of luxury health spa facilities, offer a unique way to regulate your temperature. They allow users to transition from a heated spa to a lower-temperature plunge pool, indulging in a truly luxurious experience.

Most plunge pools can be designed and built as part of a larger pool or a stand-alone pool. The pool can be configured as a skimmer, deck level, or infinity edge.
